

Our Marketing Campaigns are designed to sell your products and services without hard selling or lowering your market position or trust. No one wants to be sold to; that's why we've developed marketing campaigns that your prospects will enjoy and receive great value.

If you have an email list of prospects and customers, and a product or service to sell, your business is a candidate for a Jigsaw Concepts Marketing Campaign.

Why let your prospect database go stale when you could be bonding with them whilst drawing regular profits?

When we conduct a marketing campaign for you, we do all the work using our proven system. We sit with you to establish the offer, then we put together the campaign and run it for you.

Typically our fees to do this include a small retainer plus 15% of the product sales revenue that is generated directly from the campaign. This means there is no risk to you as we are paid for performance, unlike many other marketing firms who may drain your marketing budget without any tangible results.

Note: We do not accept all requests from our clients to run marketing campaigns. We discuss the situation with you first and determine whether there is a good fit. Usually this can be determined with a short discussion - if after that both parties are happy, we proceed with the marketing campaign.

In addition to marketing campaigns we can also assist you with complimentary services such as:

Product Launches - We create and orchestrate your product launch, which includes creating buzz and excitement in your market. A properly planned and implemented launch will inject a surge of income into your business.

Online Advertising - We can setup manage your online advertising campaigns including Google Adwords™, Yahoo Search Marketing™ and many other channels.

Other Programs which may complement your Marketing Campaign include:
