

Deliver your product range to your prospects and customers in various formats with a Product Catalogue System

Our product catalogue systems include the following key elements:

- Easy to use for the customer
- Easily and quickly updated and maintained
- Product Search wizard for quickly identifying particular products
- Deliverable in the following formats:

- Online
- Downloadable for digital viewing offline
- Hardcopy, printable brochure
- Auto run CD-Rom

- Customisable for different clients and demographics. Custom features include:

- a discount percentage able to be applied automatically to all products or selected products and categories
- selection of particular items and categories

- Expansion capabilities such as:

- integration with online shopping carts
- addition of new items and product lines
- link to other files online for further information eg. each item may have a related specification sheet or a larger image

Product catalogue system maintenance

Maintenance of your catalogue is simplified via the use of a single database for all formats of the catalogue. This way, the work of updating the product data is done once and applied to your online, downloadable, printable and CD-Rom catalogue versions.

How can a good product catalogue system help your business?

- Time and money saved is often significant. Having a system that is fast to update for all versions of your catalogue should shave hours off each time you update it.
- Your customers always have the latest product information and pricing – this will give you a clear advantage over your competitors.
- Your staff always have the latest product information and pricing.
- Give your premium clients their own special catalogue with tier discount pricing and their preferred product lines.
- Spend the time and money setting up your catalogue system once, not every few months or every year as may be the case now. With minimal maintenance, your catalogue will always be up to date.
